Steve Charter, SC2 Profile and Recommendation

I have worked with Steve Charter on pioneering sustainable development projects for over 2 years, with particular regard to sustainable construction, skills development and sustainable future industries market development.

Steve Charter has demonstrated he is a leader in sustainability both in his knowledge and application. He has great attention to detail and process. This enables him to generate the strongest possible delivery models and concise outputs. His work is often geared to making a searching evaluation or recommending practical and innovative actions in tune with strategic requirements and client needs.

His research, applied thinking, presentation and guidance is of high quality, helping to advance knowledge, management systems and project design and development to the critical point of securing strong stakeholder interest, investment and funding.

I would recommend Steve Charter to any client or organisation seeking objective, focussed and well structured support and direction. This includes providing good value for money in terms of dedicated inputs and outputs.

It has been a pleasure to work with Steve Charter at a professional, personal and collaborative level. Steve Charter also is well networked at a regional and UK level with the public and private sector. Given his strong track record, he brings a lot of added value, benchmarks and progressive knowledge into any project challenge.
